NOTES

...not a wine for beige carpet lovers or anyone content with turkey on white bread for lunch, Halcyon Days is the sort of elegant full throttle experience that a well-designed, analog-era 2-wheeled machine with exhilarating torque can provide on a Sunday afternoon where the low hum of the motor merges seamlessly with that of one's own body and soul.

Vitals: In a somewhat classic combination, the three stars of Happy Canyon, Cabernet Sauvignon, Petit Verdot and Petite Sirah were raised for nearly 3 years in large seasoned oak to combine in a moonless-midnight-colored, vibrant show of elegant force with intoxicatingly seductive aromas.

Food: well, not a turkey sandwich. Pretty much anything else will do...

Music: Halcyon Days, Two Gallants; Automation, KGLW: All at Once, Airborne Toxic Event; Caroline, J. Roddy Watson and The Business; Scarlet, Mark Henhouse; The Poet, Ryan Bingham; Brindo, Devendra Banhart
